No Huff No Puff

First a roundhouse left to the jaw sends him crashing against a wall. Springing back, he is met with a right to the midriff that doubles him over like a nutcracker. Before he can straighten some handy item of scenery — could be a grand piano or just a large chiffonier — comes crashing down over his skull.

Ten seconds later this battered warrior, having miraculously floored his opponent, is grinning jauntily into the camera . . . He isn't even breathing hard!

You've seen it happen over and over again. Everybody knows it's unreal. But if any TV hero wants to pretend that he can survive a cyclonic shuffest without getting even a little short of breath, it's no ◆in off anybody's audience rating.

The fellows to worry about unfortunately there are a lot of them in real life are those to whom it happens the other way 'round. Those who do get short of breath after no particular exertion.

If breathing fails to be hard work now and then for no special reason, you may have a problem. And the only one who can help you with it is the man with the 'M.D.' after his name. Respiratory Diseases are a lot easier to deal with if spotted in an early stage.

His many friends, who affectionately call him by his first name, look forward to his visit and his messages again this year.

The Rev. R. D. Carson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Carson; received his High School Diploma from Prospect High School his B. A. degree from Hampden-Sydney College, his B. D. and Th. M. degrees from Union Theological Seminary in Richmond. He married Miss Hilda Mays and they have three living children, two girls and one boy. He has served as Pastor of the Woodland Church in Hopewell, Va.; the Ashland Church in Ashland, Va.; the Westminister Church in Raleigh, N.C.; and is now pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Sanford, N.C.

The members and officers and the pastor, Rev. Millard Stimpson, of the Walker's Church, of Hixburg cordially invite all members of the community and area to worship with them during the coming week of July 14-19.

Four Injured When N & W Train Hits Truck At Burruss' Plant

Four men were injured Monday about 2:20 p.m. when the truck in which they were riding was struck by an east bound N&W passenger train at Burruss Crossing, about two miles west of Pamplin.

The two most seriously injured are George Britton Maxwell, 19, and Littleton Miller Maxwell, 22, of Berryville, cousins of the owner, and operator of the truck, the Reverend Wilbur G. Maxwell, 31, of Pamplin. Also riding on the truck was Reverend Maxwell's brother, Tom, 19, who was thrown from the truck by the collision.

According to State Trooper J. A. Crawford, the four men were driving into the dirt entrance road to Burruss Land and Lumber Company to buy some lumber to build a doghouse.

He said the driver, Reverend Maxwell, apparently unaware that a train was approaching, made a routine stop, but not far enough away from the tracks.

The front left bumper of the train hit the front right bumper of the truck and carried the right side of the truck against the train.

The train hurled the vehicle about 80 feet against a bank.

The Appomattox Rescue Squad carried George and Littleton Maxwell to a Farmville hospital and they were later transferred to the University of Virginia Hospital in Charlottesville. Littleton suffered extensive head injuries and George was being treated for a fractured and lacerated right elbow and mild head injuries.

Reverend Maxwell, supply pastor for Douglas, Bethlehem, and Prospect Presbyterian Churches, was listed in fair condition at Southside Hospital in Farmville Monday night. He suffered a general concussion and lacerations of the neck. His brother, Thomas Maxwell, was listed in good condition, with a general concussion and lacerations of the hand.

Following the accident, train crewmen backed the train up to the scene of the accident. A Mr. Cromer, of Norfolk and Western, who was a passenger, stayed behind to assist the Rescue Squad and State police. Carl Lewey, N&W Road foreman of engines at Crewe, heard of the accident on his automobile radio, and also stopped to give assistance.
